Love grows

SOCIETY OF ST. VINCENT DE PAUL — CINCINNATI • 2012 ANNUAL REPORT
“But be kind and love, for love is your first gift to the poor.” — Blessed Rosalie Rendu
Dear Friends,

At the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, love is our first gift to those we help. Each day in homes all across our community, St. Vincent de Paul members visit suffering families. This has been a particularly difficult year for our neighbors in need. All around them they hear stories of economic recovery, but there has been no recovery for many families. Middle class jobs that once ensured a decent living have given way to low-end and part-time work. Poverty is seeping into suburban neighborhoods where it was once rare, and physical needs are accompanied by a sense of despair, shame and hopelessness.

And yet, in the midst of this need ... love grows.

Into these lives, St. Vincent de Paul volunteers bring practical help, emotional support and spiritual nourishment. A little boy who is hungry gets a hot, nourishing meal. An elderly man who sleeps on the floor is given a bed, and the family who would be on the street tomorrow receives help with their rent tonight. The distraught mother who has given up all hope finds the comfort of a listening ear and a loving heart. One hand reaches to grasp another, and love grows.

Last year, our volunteers personally visited the homes of people in need more than 7,500 times, bearing the gifts you so generously gave. Thanks to you, hope and love replaced fear and discouragement in the lives of more than 120,000 neighbors in need. And love grows.

In the following pages, you will find the stories of a small selection of families and individuals whose lives have changed because you answered Christ’s call to love one another. Out of the true kindness of your heart, love grows to inspire hope and change lives.

God bless you for the love you bring to those who are suffering.

A grandfather provides a stable, loving home for his granddaughter ... Love grows.

Christopher & Sally
Christopher and his granddaughter, Sally, have a radiating love for one another. As Sally bounces around brightening everyone’s day, she keeps an eye on her grandpa, encouraged by his loving laugh of approval. When Sally snuggles up to her grandpa, he transforms from a tough, hardworking man into a gentle and devoted grandfather. Together, they are at peace and at home.

Sally lives with Christopher and he does everything he can for his lovable, bright-eyed granddaughter. “It’s all about her,” said Christopher. Sally’s parents love her but they are both still young, so Christopher tries to spend as much time with her as possible.

Christopher recently fell on hard times when he was laid-off from his job. “Before I knew it, our electric and water were turned off and we were behind on our rent,” he said. Panicked and concerned about what would happen to Sally if they lost their home, Christopher worked hard to raise the money for his water and electric bill. However, he did not have enough to pay his rent, and his landlord was ready to evict him.

That is when Christopher turned to St. Vincent de Paul. Just a few hundred dollars in rental assistance was enough to save Christopher and Sally from becoming homeless.

Christopher recently found a new job and is now secure in his home. He is looking forward to teaching Sally how to ride her bike in their driveway, relieved that he will be able to watch her grow up safe and happy in their home.

“She says she wants to be a model someday,” Christopher beamed. “With that smile, I know she can do it.”

Every week we are forced to turn away local families who are in danger of becoming homeless because we do not have enough resources to help them. Your gift of $500 will save a family from becoming homeless.

Because of your generosity, 5,210 families received rent or utility assistance in 2012. Families who receive rent and utility assistance meet one-on-one with our staff and volunteers to work toward long-term solutions through budget counseling, financial literacy classes and more. 90 percent of the families we helped were still in their homes at least 6 months after receiving assistance.
A mother creates a better future for her family ... Love grows.

Amber

mber wants to be the kind of mother her children can look up to. She wants to teach them not only with words but also by her actions. She dreams of being a high school graduate.

A bright, caring wife and mother of five rambunctious children, Amber has decided to make getting her GED a priority. Her children are getting older, and she wants them to value education. “You can’t tell your kids that their degree is important if you don’t have one yourself,” she said.

That is why each morning, Amber gets her children off to school and then heads to the St. Vincent de Paul Outreach Center in Winton Hills. There, she joins up to two dozen other students aged 18 to 56 diligently working toward a better life that begins with a high school degree. The small class size and caring atmosphere are helping Amber succeed.

“The teachers help you in a loving manner and it feels like they really care,” Amber said. “I truly believe that they are God’s disciples.”

She hopes that with hard work, someday she will proudly add her own photo to the wall of pictures recognizing past GED graduates.

Amber is just one of many parents doing their best to raise their children in Winton Hills, one of Cincinnati’s most impoverished — and intimidating — neighborhoods. The St. Vincent de Paul Outreach Center is a beacon of hope in this troubled area, offering an array of programs that help families develop the stability, knowledge, love, and support to build a better future.

You can help people like Amber create a better future for their families.

Your gift of $250 will provide a GED tutor for a neighbor who is willing to work hard for an education.

Four out of five adults struggle with joblessness, near-poverty or reliance on welfare for at least part of their lives. St. Vincent de Paul provided basic necessities to 120,000 people in 2012. In addition, our Outreach Centers in the West End and Winton Hills offer financial literacy classes, GED classes and support groups for men and women. St. Vincent de Paul’s efforts support the work of many other programs and agencies; last year we were the top referral agency for the United Way’s 211 helpline.
A grandfather receives life-saving medication ... Love grows.

David
We are all God’s people, and that’s exactly how they treat me when I’m at the St. Vincent de Paul Charitable Pharmacy. Everyone is so friendly to me and supportive.”

After a 30-year career in quality control for an airplane engine parts manufacturer, David faced a bleak future. He needed 18 different medicines daily, costing $900 per month out of pocket. He faced an impossible choice.

“I can choose to pay for my medicine,” David said, “but I would lose my home and have to walk to the pharmacy from under a bridge somewhere.”

He has seen the impact of not being able to afford the right medication. A friend and colleague died in David’s arms from severe respiratory problems because he could not afford his prescribed inhaler. David knows without proper medications, he faces a similar fate.

“This is life or death for me. If it wasn’t for St. Vincent de Paul, I would be dead.”

The Charitable Pharmacy is a one-of-a-kind, innovative program in Cincinnati that provides free prescription medication to neighbors who otherwise could not afford it. The Charitable Pharmacy is the last hope for those we help. There is no other program to which to refer people like David. Your gift of $5,000 would fill 500 prescriptions for neighbors in need.

David suffered from two blood clots. Bleeding caused by his medication made it impossible for him to continue working, and he reluctantly resigned from his job. Following a series of heart attacks, this once healthy and vibrant man was diagnosed with emphysema and heart disease.

David faced a bleak future. He needed 18 different medicines daily, costing $900 per month out of pocket. He faced an impossible choice.

“ar wrench over at the engine parts manufacturer, I thought, ‘I’m done.’ I was 53. I would be dead.”

Despite the many hardships life has brought to David, the kindness shown to him by St. Vincent de Paul volunteers has lifted his spirit. He has vowed to live his life fully and have a positive outlook every day. “The amount of time isn’t as important to me now as the quality of that time. It’s being at peace with God. It’s spending time with my family, especially my grandkids. St. Vincent de Paul gives me both of those.”

In 2012, the Charitable Pharmacy filled 45,130 prescriptions, valued at more than $5 million. The Charitable Pharmacy provides prescription medication to those in need while guiding them toward long-term health through health screenings, medication adherence counseling, nutrition counseling and more.
Leslie

A hungry child has a warm meal ...
Love grows.
Leslie has worked hard to pull herself and her children out of poverty, but it is not a cycle that is easily broken. She dreamed of being a chef, so she graduated from Cincinnati Cooks and even earned a special certification in fine dining to ensure that she would succeed in her new career.

She found a job at a restaurant and was looking forward to the new life that lay ahead. Then, the restaurant began to cut back her hours. Instead of cooking gourmet meals to support her family, Leslie was skipping meals herself to feed her children.

Leslie’s children cling to her, sneaking kisses and hugs whenever possible. They think the world of her, but Leslie felt that she was failing them because she could not provide for them in the most basic way. That is when Leslie turned to St. Vincent de Paul’s Edyth and Carl Lindner Choice Food Pantry for help. “Everyone is so friendly,” Leslie said. “The volunteers don’t make me feel bad, and it is such a relief to have food for my children.”

Thanks to you, Leslie knows her children will be fed while she seeks a job.

In the meantime, she is doing all she can to give back. An adult leader for the teen group at a church in the West End, she encourages the group to volunteer in the community. “A lot of people who go to our church are not from the community, and they don’t understand how hard it can be to rise above poverty,” Leslie said. “I take them to volunteer at places like St. Vincent de Paul so that they can meet people in the community and get a better understanding of the struggles they face.”

As suburban poverty grows, more and more families are struggling to afford a nutritious meal. The dramatic increase in need has left many of our pantry shelves bare. You can help neighbors in their time of need.

Your gift of $60 will feed three families for one week.

St. Vincent de Paul’s 9 neighborhood-based food pantries provide food assistance to families in every neighborhood of Cincinnati. In 2012, your support allowed our pantries to serve our neighbors in need more than 100,000 times.
A growing child gets a shirt that fits ...
Love grows.

Kayla & DeMarco
One day in April, Kayla's tiny daughter stopped breathing, and everything in her life turned upside down.

Kayla's young son DeMarco had been excited to welcome home a little sister to love and care for, but was heartbroken when the baby passed away. Losing her daughter to Sudden Infant Death Syndrome only weeks after she was born plummeted Kayla into a deep depression. Her pain was paralyzing, preventing her from working or even caring for DeMarco.

Kayla's mother, Nicole, did all she could for her daughter and brought Kayla and DeMarco to live in her apartment. She cared for DeMarco and worked extra hours to cover expenses. But between the funeral costs, medical costs, and Kayla's loss of income, the family's savings was completely drained in just a few months. Nicole was about to lose her home.

In their darkest hour, Nicole and Kayla turned to St. Vincent de Paul. Your generous donations to the St. Vincent de Paul Thrift Store and Donation Centers helped this grieving family pay their rent and provide clothing and furniture for growing DeMarco. Kayla still struggles with the death of her young daughter, but she has returned to work at a fast food restaurant and is staying strong for DeMarco. The family is still working to get back on their feet, but the kindness and generosity of St. Vincent de Paul's donors and volunteers has given them new hope for the future.

Thanks to your generous donations, St. Vincent de Paul's thrift stores provided $600,000 in furniture, clothing and household items at no cost to neighbors in need. Proceeds from our Thrift Store and Donation Centers also help struggling families by providing support for programs such as Homelessness Prevention, the Charitable Pharmacy, and the Edyth and Carl Lindner Choice Food Pantry.
St. Vincent de Paul volunteers befriend a neighbor in need ... Love grows.

Ezeckel & Kenya
“Everything we have, who we are, is because of my aunt and uncle, and the Conference Members of St. Bartholomew.”

Ezeckel, his wife Kenya and their playful children, Gbinal and Latisha, were not always such a joyful family. Just a few short months ago, they were living in the midst of civil war in Liberia, stepping over dead bodies. They hid in the forests, sleeping against trees.

Then, there came a miracle — an opportunity to move to America. An aunt and uncle whom Ezeckel had never personally met learned of their plight and agreed take them in. Ezeckel and his family moved into their aunt and uncle’s humble home in Mt. Healthy. They had no jobs, no driver’s licenses, no car, and very few possessions.

When he and his uncle drove past St. Bartholomew Parish, Ezeckel was immediately drawn to the church. “I am not sure why we stopped at that church that day, but we did,” said Ezeckel’s uncle. It was a stop that changed Ezeckel’s life.

The St. Vincent de Paul members at St. Bartholomew welcomed Ezeckel and his family with open arms. First, they provided basics like clothing and food. Then, they worked with the family for months, helping them find employment at one of St. Vincent de Paul’s Thrift Store and Donation Centers, transporting their children to school, and even helping them find their very own apartment.

Thousands of miles from their native country and all that was familiar, Ezeckel and Kenya found a new family to love and cherish them. When the time came for their children to be baptized, they turned to Conference member John and his wife to be the Godparents.

Suburban poverty in Cincinnati has increased by 83 percent since 2000, with many at-risk families now isolated in suburban communities where few services are available. St. Vincent de Paul’s network of 950 parish-based volunteers serving more than 71 Cincinnati neighborhoods places us at the front lines of suburban poverty, uniquely positioned to reach and assist these families. In 2012, our members visited the homes of those in need 7,447 times, helping 37,078 people.
Vincentian Volunteers of Cincinnati
“I’ve learned the true virtue of serving others with my whole self, realizing that my weaknesses are as valuable as my strengths. I have been challenged in areas of community life, ministry, personal spiritual, intellectual and emotional growth, and am finding joy and a sense of purpose through this whole process,” said a 2012 Vincentian Volunteer of Cincinnati.

Rooted in the mission of St. Vincent de Paul, Vincentian Volunteers of Cincinnati (VVC) is the only faith-based, year-long residential service program in Cincinnati. Bringing St. Vincent de Paul’s motto, “neighbors helping neighbors,” to life, VVC members work full-time at the West End Outreach Center providing person-to-person service to those in need, serve as members of a St. Vincent de Paul Conference, facilitate immersion experiences through the Ozanam Center for Service Learning, and live in an intentional community in the West End, regularly engaging in spiritual formation and community growth.

Our hope is that the VVC program will become part of a lifelong commitment these young adults make to live their faith as passionate, committed Vincentians who will carry on the work of the Society in the future by walking alongside their neighbors in need.

“I went through each day stopping to reflect on how to live out my faith.”

“Treating everyone as a neighbor and sitting down to listen to their story is something I will always incorporate into my future work.”

In 2012, our Vincentian Volunteers of Cincinnati served more than 37,000 of our neighbors in need and facilitated Ozanam Center Retreats for a total of 308 participants. But more importantly, the program changed the way they see the world and created new opportunities. If you are interested in learning more, call 513-562-8841 ext. 239 or email VVC@SVDPcincinnati.org.

BOB RAHE MATTRESS FUND

Every night, hundreds of children and elderly neighbors sleep on a cold, hard floor. The Bob and Sylvia Rahe Mattress Fund provides comfort and rest to neighbors in need by giving them a mattress, box spring, and bed rail set. In 2012, St. Vincent de Paul provided 786 beds to local adults and children.

Thanks to you, a struggling mother tucks her little girl into a cozy bed... love grows.

A special thank you to our Kids Dream Too! Program Partners: Morris Home Furnishings, Ashley Furniture Homestore, Olympic gold medalist Mary Wineberg, WLWT and The Cincinnati Enquirer. The Kids 5 CARES COAT DRIVE

Many neighbors in need face the cold winter months without a coat. In 2012, you gave 5,630 coats to keep local adults and children safe and warm throughout the winter.

A little boy slips into a coat in his favorite color and his face lights up... love grows.

Thank you to our 2012 partners: WLWT News 5, Gold Star Chili, Kemba Credit Union, local fire departments, City Dash, One Warm Coat and Scarf It Up.

FAN AND AIR CONDITIONER DRIVE

Hot summer days can seem endless to sick and elderly neighbors who have no source of heat relief. Thanks to you, St. Vincent de Paul gave 1,000 fans and 450 air conditioners to people in need in 2012.

An elderly woman raises her arms in joy as two St. Vincent de Paul members deliver an air conditioner... love grows.

PROGRAMS, DRIVES AND EVENTS
KROGER AND FOX 19 FOOD FROM THE HEART
From Delhi to Anderson Township, and Bridgetown to Finneytown, requests for help with food — the most basic of all needs — are on the rise. During Kroger and Fox 19’s Food From the Heart Drive, donations are accepted in food collection barrels and coin-boxes at Kroger store locations. Our volunteers carry your gifts directly to the homes of hungry families in your local neighborhood.

Thanks to you, on a dark winter evening, a mom calls her children to a warm meal ... love grows.

Thank you to our 2012 partners: Kroger and Fox 19.

CINCINNATI REDS STRIKE OUT HUNGER FOOD DRIVE
Every year, Reds fans team up to Strike Out Hunger in Cincinnati by donating non-perishable food items at the Reds’ stadium. The Reds generously reward your kindness with a ticket to a future game. In 2012, you put more than 8,500 meals on the tables of neighbors in need through the Reds Strike Out Hunger Food Drive.

On a summer day, when there is no hope of a school lunch, three little girls share a can of Spaghettios, thanks to you ... love grows.

Thank you to our 2012 partners: Cincinnati Reds and WLWT News 5.

HOLIDAY PROGRAMS
As suburban poverty grows, more and more families face a meager holiday, unable to afford a holiday meal or Christmas gifts for their children. During the 2012 holiday season, you gave hope and holiday cheer to more than 7,467 local families by generously supporting programs such as Thanksgiving and Christmas food baskets, Adopt-A-Family, Angel Toy Program, Holiday Hearts, and Shop with a Bengal.

It’s chilly on the St. Vincent de Paul dock where stacks of food and Thanksgiving turkeys are ready to be distributed to the struggling families that will soon stream through the doors. But for the moment all is quiet as old and young, black and white, helper and helped join hands and bow heads in a prayer of hope and thanks, ... love grows.

RETROFITTINGS
St. Vincent de Paul partners with the student designers from the University of Cincinnati College of Design, Architecture, Art and Planning (DAAP) for one of the year’s most anticipated events — RetroFittings! Each sophomore design student is challenged to design an ensemble using just $10 worth of goods they select from a St. Vincent de Paul Thrift Store. A lively, one-of-a-kind show spotlighting the fashions is the highlight of the evening. Proceeds support the mission of St. Vincent de Paul.

PRESCRIPTION FORE FUN CHARITY GOLF OUTING
In 2012, St. Vincent de Paul held the 7th Annual Prescription Fore Fun Charity Golf Outing, benefiting the Charitable Pharmacy. Thanks to our generous sponsors, donors, and golfers, the outing raised enough money to fill 2,500 prescriptions for neighbors in need.

Knowing that one person cares will bring love to a neighbor’s home.

Join us for ONE weekend for an urban plunge.

One person can inspire change in a community.

Give ONE dollar to provide food for a day.

LEGACY SOCIETY

You can bring hope where there is despair, love where there is loneliness and faith where there is emptiness through a tax-favored estate gift to St. Vincent de Paul – Cincinnati. We promise to carry your legacy of hope to where it will do the most good — as our founder Blessed Frederic Ozanam said, “not in a comfortable meeting room, but rather in the cheerless attic tenement, or in the sick room…the old age home or any place where love is needed.” Please consider joining these generous donors who have included St. Vincent de Paul – Cincinnati in their estate plans.
