a moment of grace

Society of St. Vincent de Paul – Cincinnati
2013 Annual Report

a moment of grace
“Grace is love that cares and stoops and rescues.”

John Stott
dear friends,

As our volunteers visited homes across Cincinnati this year, they found many families who were struggling — single mothers with empty refrigerators, families sleeping on the floor, children without coats in winter, and people on the verge of homelessness.

In the midst of the suffering and chaos, we brought help with rent, utilities, food, clothing, medicine, furniture and more. In tiny apartments and empty homes, as one hand reached for another, our Vincentians provided a break from the stress, a pause from the uncertainty...a moment of grace for those in need.

That moment, that pause in life when you feel that good really is possible, doesn’t come often enough for the less fortunate in our community. But when it does, it is a gift for those giving help as well as those receiving it.

A grandmother visited our West End Outreach Center one day, overwhelmed at the responsibility that had suddenly been placed on her. Her grandchildren had shown up on her doorstep with only the clothes on their backs, covered in lice and bed bugs. Unknown to the grandmother, the children had been living out of a car, never receiving proper healthcare, education or socialization. The boy was five years old and struggled to even speak.

As our volunteer carried sheets and pillows to her car for the bed we were going to provide, the grandmother asked the young boy to step out of the car and say hello. The boy looked down at the ground, struggling to mutter a hello. Then the grandmother told the boy, “This nice person is going to give you a bed.” The boy looked up at the volunteer with tears in his eyes and softly mumbled, “You give me bed?”

For the boy, the sentence was a major accomplishment — a sign of how important this moment was to him. For the volunteer, it was a sign to pause and reflect on the impact that she was having in this child’s life. And for the grandmother, it meant one less thing to worry about — her grandchildren would have a place to sleep. Just a few seconds in a tumultuous day, but those seconds can be the most meaningful...those moments of grace that you make possible.

In this annual report, you will read about more of the grace-filled moments you created for struggling families through your love and generosity. Those moments turned lives around. Those moments created hope in times of darkness. Those moments made all the difference to someone in need and to all of us privileged to help them.

Thank you.

“After we told Emilie we could help, I could see a weight had been lifted. She smiled and thanked us with tears in her eyes. I knew God was in that room with us and I felt blessed to know Emilie and to help.”

A St. Vincent de Paul volunteer
After Emilie’s husband passed away, she felt lost. “He dealt with all of our finances, business, everything,” sighed Emilie. “I really miss that old turkey.”

While grieving, Emilie had to deal with the added stress of piecing together their finances. She thought the car was paid off and unknowingly fell behind on payments. Then, unbeknownst to Emilie, Social Security overpaid her. Once they realized their mistake, they halted her payments for several months, leaving her with no income, unable to buy food or pay her bills.

Emilie’s granddaughter had moved in with her to finish high school. She is graduating with honors and Emilie beams when she talks about her. “She is so good to me,” smiles Emilie. “Sometimes I call her my babysitter because she’s always worrying about me and checking in on me. She’s such a good girl; I am so proud of her.”

Imagine Emilie’s depression when she didn’t know how she was going to feed her granddaughter. Then, she got a disconnect notice from Duke.

Emilie almost lost hope, until a neighbor told her about St. Vincent de Paul. “God works in mysterious ways,” said Emilie. “I rarely spoke to that neighbor, but she could tell I was struggling and helped me find St. Vincent de Paul.”

St. Vincent de Paul volunteers visited Emilie’s home to give emotional support and assistance with food and bills until she got back on her feet. “I thank God for the volunteers of St. Vincent de Paul,” she said.

Growing up in food-insecure families makes children vulnerable to poor health and stunted development from the earliest stages of life (Source: Feeding America).

In 2013, you provided groceries to struggling families more than 100,000 times through St. Vincent de Paul’s many food services, including our 9 neighborhood-based pantries, numerous food closets and individual home visits.
Eddie graduated from the University of Cincinnati with a business degree. He spent most of his career at the Ohio Department of Developmental Disabilities, helping people with disabilities learn life skills. He never dreamed he would one day be reaching out for help himself.

When Eddie’s Medicare Part D prescription insurance was cut, his prescription costs skyrocketed to more than $2,000 a month. Eddie lives on a fixed retirement income and was already struggling to make ends meet. Without his prescription insurance to cover the cost of his diabetes-related medication, Eddie didn’t know how he was going to survive.

“I literally started wondering what I was going to have to sell to live,” said Eddie. “My family wanted to help me, but they didn’t have that kind of money either.”

A friend saved Eddie’s life by telling him about the St. Vincent de Paul Pharmacy, the only charitable pharmacy in Southwest Ohio. Eddie knew it was his last hope. “There are no other resources. I don’t know what I would have done without St. Vincent de Paul,” said Eddie. “The value of the Charitable Pharmacy is immeasurable.”

Now, Eddie advocates for the pharmacy whenever possible.

“I tell anyone I can about the Charitable Pharmacy — friends, family, people at the bus stop,” said Eddie. “It just might save their life, like it saved mine.”

“It’s a constant struggle and I feel stuck. I have a high school diploma and took some college courses, but decent paying jobs require a degree.”
Derik is a veteran who served our country during the Gulf War. Haunted by the tragedies he witnessed, he suffers from Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD).

Despite his disorder, Derik was determined to succeed in the civilian world after his service ended. He started his own car detailing company, but lost everything during the recession. Soon after, he gained full custody of his beautiful daughters, Brittany, Simona, Natalie and Joelle.

A single father of four teenage girls, Derik tries to provide for his daughters while keeping up with their sports schedules, homework and dreams of becoming actresses.

“It’s a constant struggle and I feel stuck,” said Derik, who joined the military instead of finishing college. “I have a high school diploma and took some college courses, but decent paying jobs require a degree.”

Derik keeps a tight budget, but any unexpected expense can send the family’s finances spiraling. When a high utility bill resulted in a disconnect notice, Derik didn’t know how he would pay his rent, feed his girls and keep the lights on.

“If it was just me on my own, I could go crash on a friend’s couch, but it’s different with my girls,” said Derik. “I can’t uproot their lives and no one has the room to take in all five of us.”

St. Vincent de Paul volunteers visited Derik and his girls at home. The importance of this call for help was not lost on them — the slide toward homelessness often begins with a high utility bill that a family is unable to pay. They listened to Derik’s struggles, went over a budget, and gave him help with his bills. “I don’t know what we would have done without their help,” said Derik. “We are very grateful.”

The Homelessness Prevention Program keeps families in their homes. More than 89% of those helped are able to avoid eviction for at least six months. Your gift of $500 can save a family from homelessness.
“It was really, really hard at first. I just kept thinking to myself, ‘You have no idea what you’re doing!’”
When 21-year-old Nina learned that her sister and three brothers had been abandoned, she didn’t hesitate to take them in.

“I heard that they were living with a neighbor in a four bedroom apartment with eight other children,” said Nina. “I just asked myself, ‘What is the best thing you can do to help them?’”

Nina was already busy trying to earn her nursing degree while working two jobs. But without a second thought, she filed for an emergency custody hearing.

“It was really, really hard at first,” Nina said. “I was broke because I didn’t have any help. I just kept thinking to myself, ‘What are you doing? You have no idea what you’re doing!’”

Nina had nothing for the children. “All five of us were sleeping in my bed,” said Nina. “I was getting kicked in the face and pushed off every night.”

Nina turned to St. Vincent de Paul for help. Volunteers visited Nina and gave her beds and clothing for the children. They offered encouragement, budgeting advice, and connections to additional resources. Nina applied for help with food and medical expenses and learned how to manage her budget.

“Now I buy what the kids need first and then take them out for something special if we can afford it at the end of the month,” she explained.

“They’re such good kids,” said Nina. “I don’t understand how someone could leave them.”

This fledgling family will receive one more surprise. This year, Nina and her four siblings will get all the help they need to have a magical Christmas, complete with holiday meals and toys for all the children.

You can give hope to families in need by donating used clothing, furniture, household items, and even unwanted vehicles to St. Vincent de Paul. Or, a gift of $100 can provide a new bed to a neighbor in need.

Thanks to you, St. Vincent de Paul Store and Donations Centers provided more than $600,000 in free clothing, furniture and household items to neighbors in need in 2013 — items that make a house a home and help children feel secure. More than 988 beds were given to struggling families who were personally visited by our volunteers. Donations can be dropped-off at any convenient Thrift Store and Donation Center location, or call 513-421-CARE (4673) to schedule a free pick-up of large donations and vehicles.
Inside a tiny Colerain apartment, an elderly lady with COPD pulls her chair closer to the window air conditioner given to her by one of St. Vincent de Paul’s volunteers, thanks to you...

A child’s face lights up with wonder at the gifts under the tree on Christmas morning, while her mother says a quiet prayer of thanks, wishing she could freeze this moment of grace, thanks to you...

Two young brothers who went to bed with hunger pains last night, come home from a long day at school to find dinner on the table... thanks to you.

At the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, we are blessed to witness moments of grace every day. Moments that touch our hearts and remind us that Christ is present in all we do. Moments made possible by your support for our drives, programs and events.

Bob and Sylvia Rahe Mattress Fund

The Bob and Sylvia Rahe Mattress Fund provides a mattress, box spring and bed rail set to neighbors in need who are personally visited by our volunteers. In 2013, 988 local adults and children were lifted from the cold floor into a warm bed because of your generosity.

A special thank you to our Kids Dream Too! program partners: Morris Home Furnishings, Ashley Furniture Homestore, Olympic gold medalist Mary Wineberg, WLWT and The Cincinnati Enquirer. The Kids Dream Too! program gives beds to local children in need.
Fan and Air Conditioner Drive

Many older apartments in Cincinnati have poor ventilation and no cooling system, making them dangerous in the hot summer for those who are frail, sick, elderly or very young. In 2013, 700 fans and 320 air conditioners were given to neighbors in need, thanks to you.

Thank you to our 2013 partners: WCPO, Huntington National Bank, Braun Heating and Air Conditioning, Coney Island, Tedia Company, Inc. and Stor-All Self Storage.

In 2013, 6,600 coats were collected for local adults and children in need.

Five Cares Coat Drive

When budgets are stretched to the breaking point, getting a winter coat can be an impossible expense. In 2013, 6,600 coats were collected for local adults and children who had no other protection against the harsh weather.

Thank you to our 2013 partners: WLWT News 5, Gold Star Chili, Kemba Credit Union, City Dash, Youthland Academy, participating fire departments, Starr Printing, and many other groups who collected coats.

Cincinnati Reds Strike Out Hunger Food Drive

St. Vincent de Paul pantries struggle to keep their shelves stocked due to an increased need for food when children are on summer break. Your donations to the Strike Out Hunger Food Drive provided help to struggling neighbors when they needed it most. In 2013, Reds fans donated 15,000 pounds of food, or 10,000 meals, providing nourishment and hope for families throughout Cincinnati.

Thank you to our 2013 partners: Cincinnati Reds and WLWT News 5.

Kroger and Fox 19 Food From the Heart

From Delhi to Anderson Township and Bridgetown to Finneytown, our volunteers visit families who live with the constant worry about where their next meal will come from. The Food From the Heart food drive, a cherished Cincinnati tradition, places food collection barrels and coin-boxes at Kroger store locations to accept donations during the holiday season. Kroger shoppers donated more than 100,000 meals in 2013.

Thank you to our 2013 partners: Kroger and Fox 19.

Thanksgiving and Christmas Programs

The holiday season is a time of joy, but for families struggling to make ends meet, it can be overwhelming and lonely. Through Thanksgiving and Christmas food baskets, Adopt-A-Family, the Angel Toy Program, Holiday Hearts Luncheon and Shop with a Bengal, you embodied Christ’s love and created grace-filled memories for neighbors in need. You helped 6,634 people during the 2013 holiday season.

* These donors have financially contributed to the Society of St. Vincent de Paul – Cincinnati District Council for five or more consecutive years.
You can bring hope where there is despair, love where there is loneliness and faith where there is emptiness through a tax-favored estate gift to St. Vincent de Paul – Cincinnati. We promise to carry your legacy of hope to where it will do the most good — as our founder Blessed Frederic Ozanam said, “not in a comfortable meeting room, but rather in the cheerless attic tenement, or in the sick room…the old age home or any place where love is needed.” Please consider joining these generous donors who have included St. Vincent de Paul – Cincinnati in their estate plans.
